This year we have an exciting line up of educational programs for our members. Each month we will cover topics such as certification, hot websites for chefs, culinary demonstrations and more. We will also move around the community to different venues each month. Our next meeting will be “Certification, what’s in it for me?” This informative session will detail the benefits of certification and outlines the steps and the process of becoming a certified chef. Come and hear ways to raise the value of your culinary skills in today’s marketplace. We will also feature a “vendor spotlight” each month and this month Plys Superior Consulting Brokerage will bring us information about their products.
